Vienna, June 21. There are Letters from Hungary, which ſay, That the Turks are encamped in a very conſiderable Body near Offen, and that they will aſſiſt Count Teckeley with 20000 Men in order to the making him Prince of Tranſilvania; and we are told that upon theſe motions of the Turks, the Emperor has reſolved to encreaſe his Forces towards Hungary, and that the Margrave of Baden ſhall encamp with 10000 Men near Raab, the Palatine of Hungary with 12000 Hungarians near Rebau, Count Caprara with 8000 Men in Upper-Hungary, Count Palphi with 6000 near Newheuſel, and Count Rabata with 6000 near the Berg-Towns; which together will make 42000 Men. Count Leſlie, who is to Command the Imperial Troops that are now marching towards the Rhine, has received all his Orders and Inſtructions, and will part hence in a day or two; and Count Waldeck will very quickly follow him.

Hamburg, June 30. The King of Denmark is returned to Copenhagen, but it is reported he will be very ſuddenly in theſe parts again. It was ſaid ſome days ſince, that the Swediſh Fleet was at Sea, and that that had occaſioned the King of Denmark's ſo haſty return home, but we ſince find it to be a miſtake.

Bruſſels, June 30. The Marquiſs de Grana employs himſelf with indefatigable diligence, for the putting the Forces of theſe Countries into the poſture which the preſent ſtate of things ſeems to demand, and the making the neceſſary proviſion for their ſubſiſtence, wherein his Excellency has been very much encouraged by the laſt Spaniſh Letters, which, as we are informed, aſſured his Excellency of effectual Supplies for the ſupporting his Excellency in the deſigns he has for the good of theſe Countreys. From Luxemburg we have an Account, That the Marquiſs de Bedmar parted from thence ſome days ſince with the four Italian Regiments, intending to paſs by Water to Tyler, and from thence to Cologne, &c. Part of the Spaniſh Recruits are arrived at Oſtend, and the reſt are daily expected. We have an account of a very ſad Accident that happened the other day near Bruges, the occaſion this; A Captain and ſome of his Officers going into a Warren to divert themſelves with the Shooting of Rabbets, the Gentleman that owned the Warren, (who had forbid them Shooting there without his leave) with his Son, another Gentleman his Friend, and two or three Servants, went out to oblige them to retire; which the Captain and thoſe with him not doing, they fell upon each other, and in the Diſpute the Gentleman, his Son, and his Friend, and the Captain and one of his Officers were killed upon the place: Of which his Excellency being informed, he has ſent down the Sur-Intendant to examine the matter, that Juſtice may be done upon thoſe that were in this Action, and are remaining alive.
